Giant Well Flowing With Good Pressure

Showing Is As Strong As
When Test Was Made
Last Week.

When the cap was removed from the Carter-Nance-Laselle well on the Burk farm twelve miles northwest of Ada yesterday a stream of oil issued from the casing as large as that on which the 1,670 barrels per day estimate was based Friday of last week and so great was the pressure of the oil that the workmen were unable to fasten the control head securely back on the top of the casing. It is reported that oil is issuing through the defective connection at the rate of approximately 100 barrels per day. This report, coming directly from one of the owners of the well and confirmed by other persons who have visited the well since yesterday morning, eliminates the rumor current here yesterday morning that the well had ceased to flow.

Workmen have just completed one 1000-barrel tank, two others are being hauled to the well to be put up immediately and eight more are reported shipped from Electric, Texas, to be used in taking care of the first oil which comes from the well.

The work of placing the five and three-sixteenths inch casing has not been started by the drillers, but in all probability this work will be completed this week, so that the well may be brought in early next week.

A report circulated here yesterday to the effect that oil and gas was found in the Transcontinental well, at 1,400 feet in 14-5-4, yesterday morning, was denied by Sam Jordan, the drilling contractor in charge of the well, who advised the News that he was drilling in 12 1/2 inch casing at 1,047 feet last night.

The Carter-Nance-Laselle well continues to be the center of attractions and each train entering the city brings a new load of enthusiastic oil men, who have been drawn here by reports from the great discovery.

At times the crowd becomes so large that one can scarcely find standing room in the lobby of the Harris hotel, which has become the headquarters and meeting place for buyers and sellers of leases.

Three brokerage "offices" have been opened in the hotel lobby and sample room and the managers of these "offices" all doing a real "land office business" day and night. J. L. Van Dissen, a capitalist and promoter of Wichita Falls, Texas, conducts one of the "offices," which has been formed by placing a railing around a ten-foot space in one corner of the hotel lobby and furnishing the space with a writing table and a couple of chairs.

In an opposite corner of the lobby J. L. Jennings of Wichita Falls conducts a similar business in a similar "office," and in the sample room John W. Erwin, T. O. Dandridge and Paul Payne, three local men, are taking care of an ever increasing crowd.

Couple Fined for Disturbing Peace Of Neighbors

Walter Gannon and his wife, Mrs. Mable Gannon, who live on West 8th street, were before Mayor Kitchens in police court this morning on a charge of disturbing the peace. The two participated in a disturbance among some children on West 8th yesterday afternoon and it is said three small clods of dirt and a lot of profanity around rather freely. They were assessed $10.75 each by the court.

HERE'S A DUTY TO PERFORM

One of Ada's greatest permanent assets, as we all know, is the East Central State Normal school. When the summer term opens here the 23rd of next month we are going to find ourselves face to face with the same old problem—that of rooms for students—only this year it is going to be ten times worse than heretofore on account of the oil boom.

Every hotel and rooming house in the city is full of oil people, and they are still coming on every train. When the big field is really opened the situation will be still more acute. There are some plans developing looking to the erection of modern hotels—one a big six-story brick—but it will be months before relief will come from this source.

It seems that it would be the prerogative of the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions club to get busy on plans for taking care of our thousands of visitors during the coming summer. From the present outlook the only hope seems to lie in the direction of getting the citizens to open their homes to the visitors and offering every available room for rent. Of course the prices for rooms should be within reason, at the same time the people who are coming here now are not people who want something for nothing, and it is very likely that any one with a room to rent can get a price that will justify the plan.

Let us begin in time to get ready to care for these problems. We can't afford to stand the loss that would come as a result of not having shelter for all who might come this way. Plans should be evolved now, and work to carry out the plans should follow immediately.

County Maps

The News has just received another supply of blue print maps of Pontotoc county. Oil men can also find here all kinds of leases, assignments, options and, in fact, every kind of blank form needed in the oil business. These forms are absolutely correct and the prices are right.

TO INVESTIGATE RAIL SITUATION

Senate Committee Empowered To Call Railroad Executives.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A general investigation of the railroad situation was ordered today by the senate. A resolution offered by Chairman Cummins was adopted without debate or division.

Senator Cummins plans to begin the inquiry about May 1, with railroad executives as the first witnesses. His committee is authorized by the resolution to investigate railroad maintenance cost, efficiency of operation, reduction of tariff and the best way to effect reductions in freight and passenger rates.

Horse Stealing Charged Against Stonewall Men

Charged with horse stealing H. Hulsey, S. Manuel and P. DeLozier of the Stonewall community are in the county jail at Ada. They were brought to Ada last night by City Marshal Ernest Miers of Stonewall. The three young men were arrested at Stringtown by Atoka county officers while on their way to Antlers, and it is said that a stolen horse was in their possession when they were apprehended.

Miss Willie Nelson of Durant was in the city over the week-end.

Miss Helen Grotter of Henryetta was in the city yesterday looking after business matters and consulting local physicians.

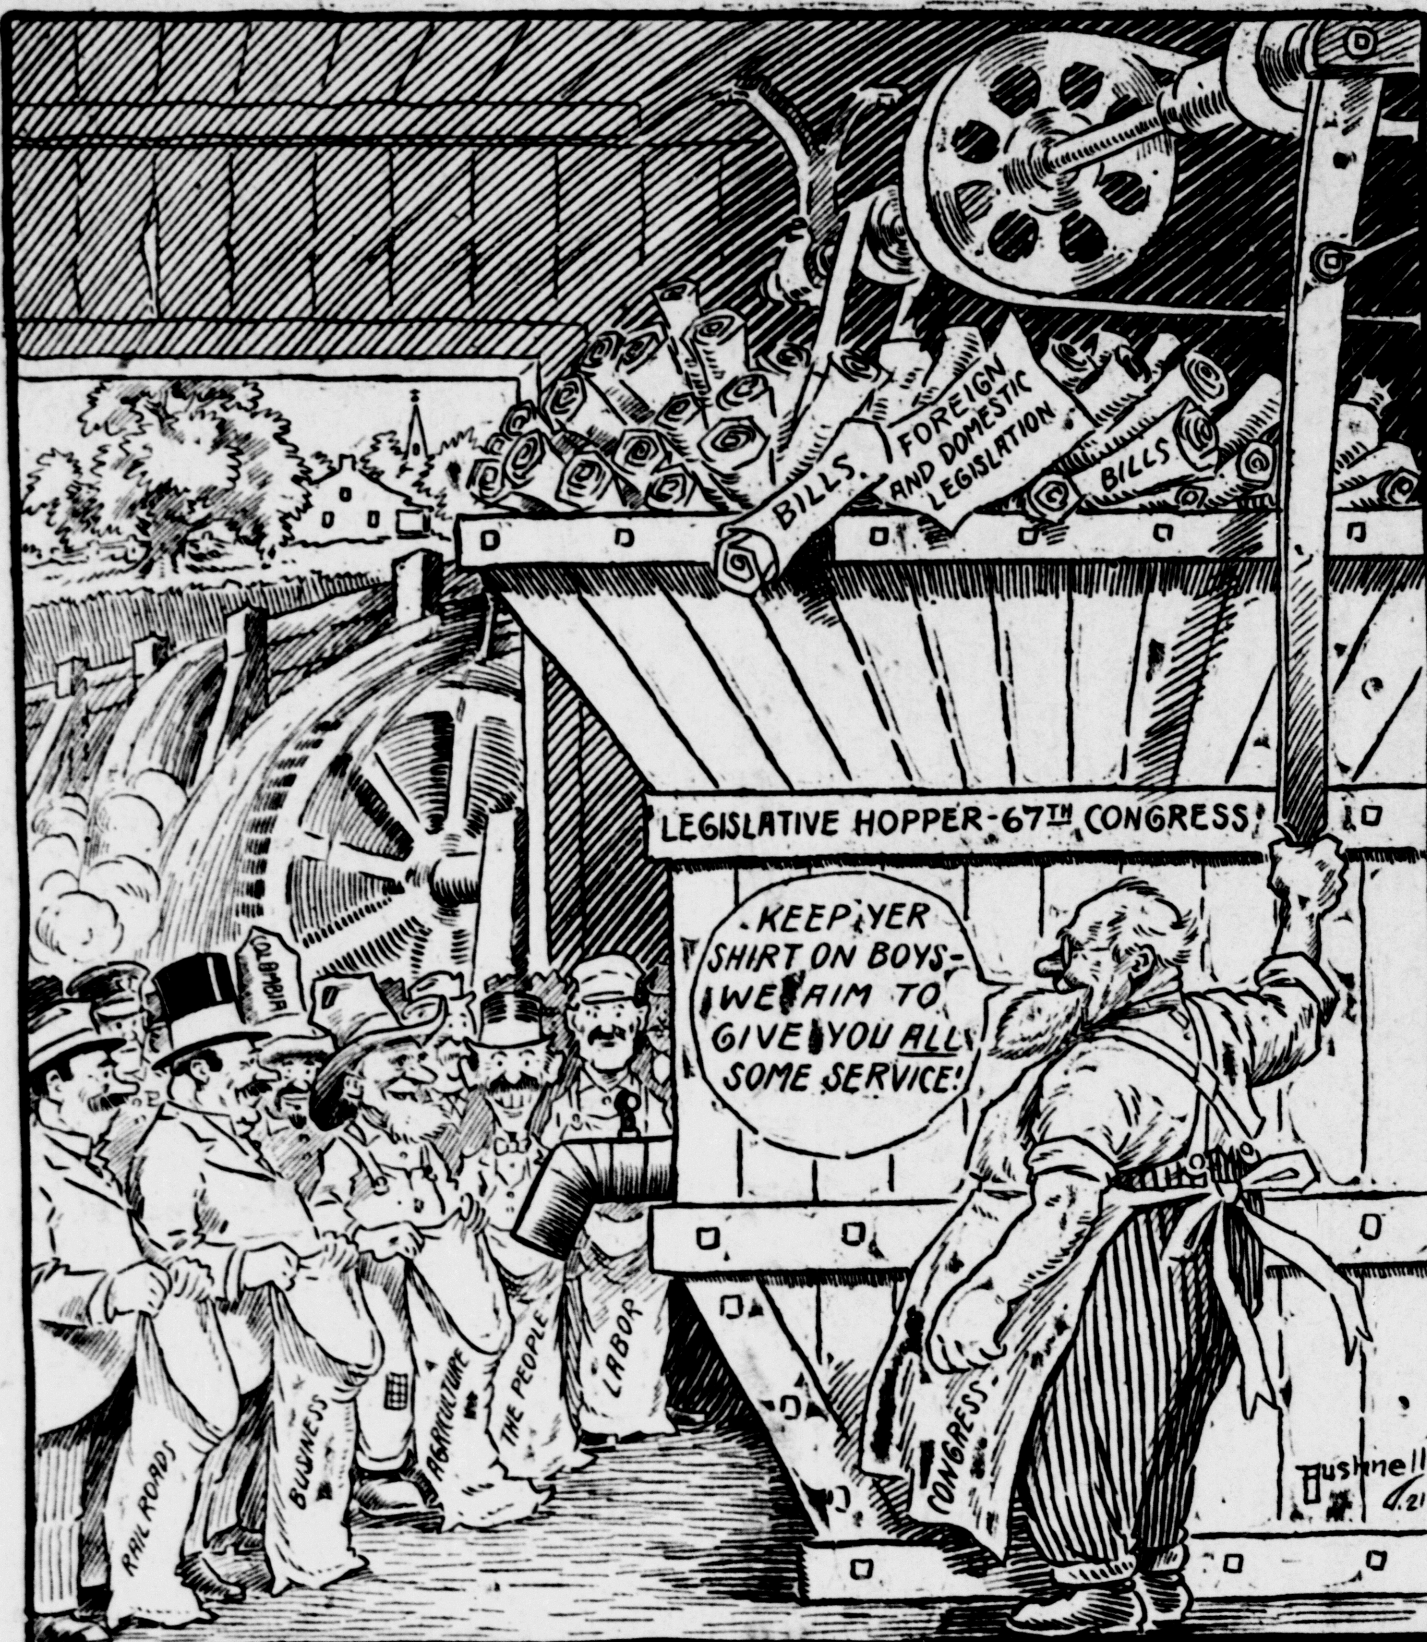

LANDLORDS GIVEN HARD BLOW IN DECISION

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Landlords who have ignored lowering the rents of their tenants are facing suits involving thousands of dollars as the result of a decision of the United States Supreme Court which yesterday passed a decision holding the act as constitutional.

The law, which is known as the Ball Act, and was passed by congress for the specific purpose of providing for a rebate to tenants of all rent charged in excess of that fixed by the commission and makes the collectors subject to fines for

GERMANY WILL MAKE NEW MOVE

To Announce Decision From Berlin Tomorrow or Next Day.

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS, April 19.—Germany has given up the idea of finding any intermediaries to transmit reparations, according to a dispatch reaching Paris. The German government will make a new decision and commit it Wednesday or Thursday, either direct to the allies or to the representing committee. It will be published in Berlin immediately after delivery.

The propositions it is understood are a repetition of those upon which the German delegates decided in London on March 7.

Prominent Oil Men Are Making Large Investments Here

Shirley R. Cragg and G. M. Yunkers of Buffalo, New York and H. O. Shurbet of Lockney, Texas, are among the oil men who are in Ada this week taking part in the local oil game. They are very sanguine as to the future of the local field and are confident that something really worth while has already been developed.

Mr. Cragg is vice president and field manager of the Buffalo Southwestern Oil Co. while Mr. Yunker is vice president of the Buffalo Texas Oil company. These gentlemen are making some substantial investments in Pontotoc county. They came over from Duncan early in the week and state that the grade of oil just discovered in this county is much superior to the oil found in the Duncan field.

Absent Attorneys Causes Court To Recess for Today

The civil docket was taken up in county court this morning and the task of adjusting legal differences by Judge Crawford is now under way, quite a number of civil cases are set for hearing during the term. When the court convened yesterday morning for a day's work it was found that practically every attorney in Ada was so deeply immersed in the oil business that he had overlooked so simple a matter as attending court. The court therefore took a recess till this morning when sufficient lawyers appeared to continue with the docket.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN STREAM

Identified as Mrs. Harding Macquay, Suffragette and Writer.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Police headquarters today received a report that the body of a woman found yesterday in the East River, near Astoria, has been identified as Mrs. Jeffrie Harding Stubbs Macquay, suffragette and writer, who yesterday ran away from her husband in the Grand Central station, after having threatened to commit suicide.

Mrs. Macquay had been in ill health for several months and was on her way to the country with her husband at the time of her disappearance. She had threatened to commit suicide on several occasions, police were told.

Benton Macquay is an expert forerunner and a brother of Percy Macquay, poet.

Charles Whittaker and Mabel Irving, friends of the Macquay family later viewed the body and positively identified it as that of Mrs. Macquay.

FORMER GERMAN EMPRESS BURIED

(By the Associated Press)

POTSDAM, April 19.—Amid the tolling of bells which marked the solemn hour, funeral services for Augusta Victoria, former German empress, were held today in this, the royal residence suburb of Berlin, which had witnessed so many scenes of splendor in the departed days of Hohenzollern's rule.

Over the simple coffin in the Mausoleum or antique temple in the Potsdam palace grounds, where the services were held, had been raised the familiar yellow standard of the ex-empress and at its foot stood the four sons of the former royal couple, who were free to attend the services. Lacking was the presence of the husband, the former emperor and the eldest son of the family, Crown Prince Frederick William, exiled in Holland.

A new business is being started on West 12th street next door to the Cummings Undertaking establishment. The new business men have not yet announced the nature of the business, but that it was brought here by the oil development.

(By the Associated Press)

If the Germans refuse to comply with the ultimatum, the committee states it will require the Imperial delegation to comply with the request and turn the gold over direct to the Reparation committee.

Girl's Debating Team To Appear for First Time in Auditorium

The East Central Normal debating society will make their first appearance in public here Wednesday night when the girls debating team will meet a girls debating team from the Oklahoma Baptist University of Shawnee in the Normal auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The local team consists of Misses Elizabeth Smith, Opal Little and Inez Bement, and they are one of the strongest teams put out by the school this year. All have had considerable experience in this work and when they meet the Baptist team, this team is also a very strong one, a hot argument is likely to be the result. The subject at this time will be "Resolved, that the federal government should enact legislation embodying the principle of the Kansas law for the settlement of labor disputes in public utilities." The constitutionality of the question is waived.

Everybody is invited to come out and hear the girls and the presence of all who attend will be greatly appreciated by the girls. An admission of 15 and 25 cents will be charged to all except Normal students, who will be admitted on the enterprise tickets.

Work was again started on the repairing of the holes in the city pavement today. Some of these places had become very bad and the work was timely. Two of the worst places were at the corner of Townsend and Main and at the crossing of the railroad on Main.

RECORDS OF MEET ARE MADE PUBLIC NATION'S CHIEF HONORS PATRIOT

Official Report Is Given in Both Sections and Classes.

The eighth annual literary and track meet of Pontotoc county was held here Friday and Saturday of last week at the normal with the Ada high school winning the cup in the A class and the Irving school winning the B class honors. Other prizes are to be awarded to the winners in the meet. A and B classes all round athletes making highest score, relay races, baseball and chorus.

These prizes have not yet arrived but are expected in a few days and when they get here will be given to the winners. This method has proven successful and was a great help in making the meet a success.

King of Ada won the honors of making the highest score of 19 points, while Potts of Ada was a close second with 18 points. The third place was won by Jobe of Francis who made a total of 12 points.

Harding Presides at Unveiling of Venezuelan Liberator's Statue Today.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Crowds cheered President Harding when he arrived here at 2:30 today from Washington for the unveiling of the statue of Simon Bolivar in Central Park.

Secretary Hughes also was in the presidential party. At New York it will be joined by Under Secretary Fletcher and Assistant Secretary Bliss, who went to the metropolis to welcome the delegation from Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Harding left Washington at 9:30 this morning by special train for New York, where he will preside at the unveiling of the Bolivar statue and return to Washington tonight. He was accompanied by Mrs. Harding and a party of personal friends.

NEW YORK, April 19.—New York eagerly awaited the arrival of President Harding, who on the occasion of the unveiling in Central Park of an equestrian statue of General Simon Bolivar, South American Liberator, is making his first visit to New York since his election.

To furnish safety for the president, adequate precaution has been taken by the police to control the thousands of persons who gathered along the route which the presidential party was to follow after its arrival at the Pennsylvania station. After lunching at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, as guests of the Venezuelan special guests who came with the president to the city of New York, the presidential party will proceed up Fifth avenue to Bolivar Hill in Central Park.

Hundreds of mounted and foot police were detailed and a special guard has been assigned to keep order at the scene of the unveiling. Those who were summoned to participate in the ceremonies were: cabinet members, foreign ministers and envoys, state and municipal officials and detachments of soldiers sailors and marines.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Mrs. Sally James Farnham's design for the heroic equestrian bronze statue of Simon Bolivar, a gift to the city of New York by the government of Venezuela, was chosen from a long list entered in competition by some of the world's most famous sculptors several years ago. It was to have been unveiled in 1915 but was postponed owing to the war.

The statue takes the place of a former figure of "America," erected in 1885 as a gift from Venezuela and later removed to make way for a better likeness. Together with the designs of two other artists, chosen by the American Art commission, all three were sent to Caracas, where Mrs. Farnham's was selected as the final choice by a commission appointed by the Venezuelan government.

It stands 15 feet high above a 16-foot pedestal, and depicts the "Liberator," who wrested from Spain the independence of five countries—Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia—sitting erect on a spirited horse. The animal's neck is curved by the reins holding him in check, his main flying in the wind and the left front foot projecting in the act of charging. Bolivar, whose likeness was fashioned by the sculptress from an old photograph, is dressed in full uniform and looks forward into the distance as if enchanted by a vision.

On the front side of the pedestal is the coat-of-arms of Venezuela, underneath which is the inscription: "Simon Bolivar—El Libertador." On the right side, under the coat-of-arms of Colombia and Peru, is the inscription in Spanish: "Liberador de Venezuela, Nueva Granada, Ecuador y Peru, y Fundador de Bolivia." On the left side, under the coat-of-arms of Ecuador and Bolivia, is the Spanish inscription: "Nacio en Caracas el 24 de Julio de 1783—Murió en Santa Marta el 17 de Diciembre de 1830." On the back is the inscription: "Venezuela a la Ciudad de Nueva York."

Photographs of the statue were mailed to Caracas some time ago in order that it might be displayed in newspapers in South America on the same day the figure is unveiled here. Venezuela, by a government decree more than a month ago, in token of further friendship toward the United States, gave the name of Washington to an important avenue in Caracas and ordered the construction of a new park to be called Washington park in which the statue of George Washington is to be placed. In addition the old Washington park will be renamed after Henry Clay.

STATE FRUIT CROP GREATLY DAMAGED

Estimate Made by Department of Agriculture Is Announced.

(By the Associated Press.) OKLAHOMA CITY, April 19.—The total average damage to the fruit crop in Oklahoma as a result of the freezes of March 27 and 28 ranges from 55 to 96 percent of fruit of all varieties, according to a comprehensive report issued here today by C. G. Nesbitt, state nursery and orchard inspector of the department of agriculture. It is based on reports received by him from all sections of the state.

The reports are conservative and made by prominent fruit growers and nurserymen in the state, according to Mr. Nesbitt. It is shown that 96 percent of the peach crop was lost and a similar percent of the apricot crop. Ninety percent of the cherries were killed by the freeze, the report shows; 89 percent of the pear crop; 89 percent of the plum crop; 76 percent of the apple crop; 59 percent of the grapes, and 55 percent of the berry crop.

Temperatures reported were from 22 to 34 degrees, the lowest from Dewey county. In many instances, the reports remark, it was only through the efforts of large orchard owners and fruit growers that any of the crop was saved. From all sources there come reports of individuals resorting to their own heating and smudge systems, and patrolling the orchards during the night with make-shift torches.

One particular report was made from Pauls Valley, where is located the state training school for boys. The school has one of the largest orchards in the state and reports declare that through the combined efforts of inmates and employees that institution saved practically its entire peach crop. Lamps were made of one-gallon tomato cans and wicks of burlap. Crude oil was used for fuel.

Dewey—Hundred percent of all fruit except grapes and berries. McCurtain—Entire loss all fruit, although one grower estimates that probably 25 percent of the peaches, pears and plums may be saved.

Logan—Hundred percent loss of all fruit except probably 95 percent of cherries and apples.

Oklahoma—Complete loss peaches, plums and apricots and 75 percent of apples. Ten percent of grapes and berries were saved.

Woods—All fruit a total loss. Caddo—All fruit grown total loss. Lincoln—All fruit entirely killed.

Creek—Hundred percent peaches, pears, plums and apricots lost. From 95 to 100 percent of apples, grapes and berries saved.

Washington—Ninety-five to hundred percent loss, except apples.

Jefferson—Seventy-five percent apples killed and hundred percent all other fruit.

Okmulgee—All fruit killed. Blaine—All fruit killed, except probably 25 percent of apples.

Noble—Damage total loss. Garvin—Hundred percent loss. Woodward—Hundred percent loss. Fifty percent berries saved.

Sequoyah—From ninety-five to 100 percent killed.

Seminole—Hope for about 25 percent of a crop.

Haskell—All badly damaged. Tulsa—Hundred percent loss. Nowata—Hundred percent loss. Craig—Hundred percent loss. Grant—From ninety to hundred percent loss.

Correspondence Union Valley.

Were Stokes' Witnesses Offered Coin to Testify Against His Wife?

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes, photographed in court during trial and (right) Mrs. Genevieve De Aquinos on the witness stand.

NEW YORK, April 18.—(Special)—The divorce suit of Stokes vs. Stokes, in which an aged New York millionaire is the complainant, and a titian-haired beauty many years his junior the defendant, is nearing an end. The trial has been replete with sensations and charges and counter-charges of the gravest character.

Stokes names eight men whom he says were unduly familiar with his wife. He has brought witnesses into court to sustain this contention.

Mrs. Stokes, on the other hand, has denied all his charges in toto, and has endeavored to show that money has been used to corrupt witnesses against her.

The chief witness for the complainant was Mrs. Genevieve De Aquinos, who testified that she had often seen Mrs. Stokes in company with a Mr. Wallace, named by Stokes as one of the co-respondents. Mrs. Aquinos admits having sought to induce one Martha Jones, a servant of Wallace, to testify against Mrs. Stokes. She denies that she offered the woman any money.

Martha Jones testifies that Mrs. De Aquinos said to her in effect that people in New York were being paid and she might as well get some of the money. To which the maid said she replied, "I don't want any of Mr. Stokes' dirty money."

Stokes denies that he offered Martha Jones or anybody else any money to testify against his wife.

The legislature, is impressive. Pre-legislative days, however, did not show the signs of "nothing doing" as the first impression upon entrance at the capitol does today.

"No elevator service" is the comment of the old capitol custodian and his corps of guides who greet one at the entrance. The lack of light struck their "office" too, so they moved out under the opening of the rotunda, and get their light fourth handed from the skylight above.

One finds but little trouble in locating any of the heads of the various departments today. They, like many of the employees, prefer to occupy their chairs in their office in preference to climbing or descending the stairs on a matter now considered trivial, but which during the days of service, was of importance enough to ride the elevator.

Those of all departments who complain the most are the unfortunates who serve in the capacity of errand-boy or messenger. This is particularly true of that individual who serves the highway department in the basement; the courier in the treasury and land office on the first floor, both of which have much business over the entire building. Coming down, but always to go up is that servant of the board of affairs who spends almost his entire day sifting out the requisitions to almost every department, high and low, in the building.

Some of the more pessimistic are looking for two months of walking.

EMIGRATION BILL NOW BEFORE HOUSE

Would Restrict Emigration From Europe on Per Centage Basis.

(By the Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 19.—Reporting the emigration bill to the house today, Sherman Johnson, of the Emigration Committee, urged its immediate passage, declaring that the cause calling for its enactment by the last congress still existed.

Except for the effective days, the new measure is identical with that given a pocket veto by President Wilson. It restricts emigration from Europe to three percent of the number of foreign born persons of such nationalities in the United States at the time of the 1910 census, and would be effective from next May 18, to June 30, 1922. The measure would not apply to emigration from countries with which the United States has treaty agreements, such as Japan, China and the South American republic.

Union Valley.

The Union Valley Boys' and Girls' Club met at the usual hour Friday afternoon, April 15. They had, as visitors, Miss Deal of Stillwater, Mr. Hill and Mrs. Duvall.

The lesson for the day was on selecting livestock for a small farm. After the roll call and the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Lula Riddle, President Grady Allen read twenty questions which were answered and discussed by the club. Raymond Young, Hiram Falter, and Lula Riddle gave short discussions on topics concerning the lesson.

Miss Deal then gave the club an interesting and helpful talk on "What It Takes to Make a Good Community."

Mr. Hill also talked to the members and expressed his approval of the interest they are taking and the work being done by the club. Mrs. Duvall was helping the girls on a sewing lesson and so the club missed a talk from her.

After the meeting Mr. Hill took the clubs' picture. All of the members were not present, however.

The Union Valley Club hopes to get some good results from this year's work and all of the members are doing their part well.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

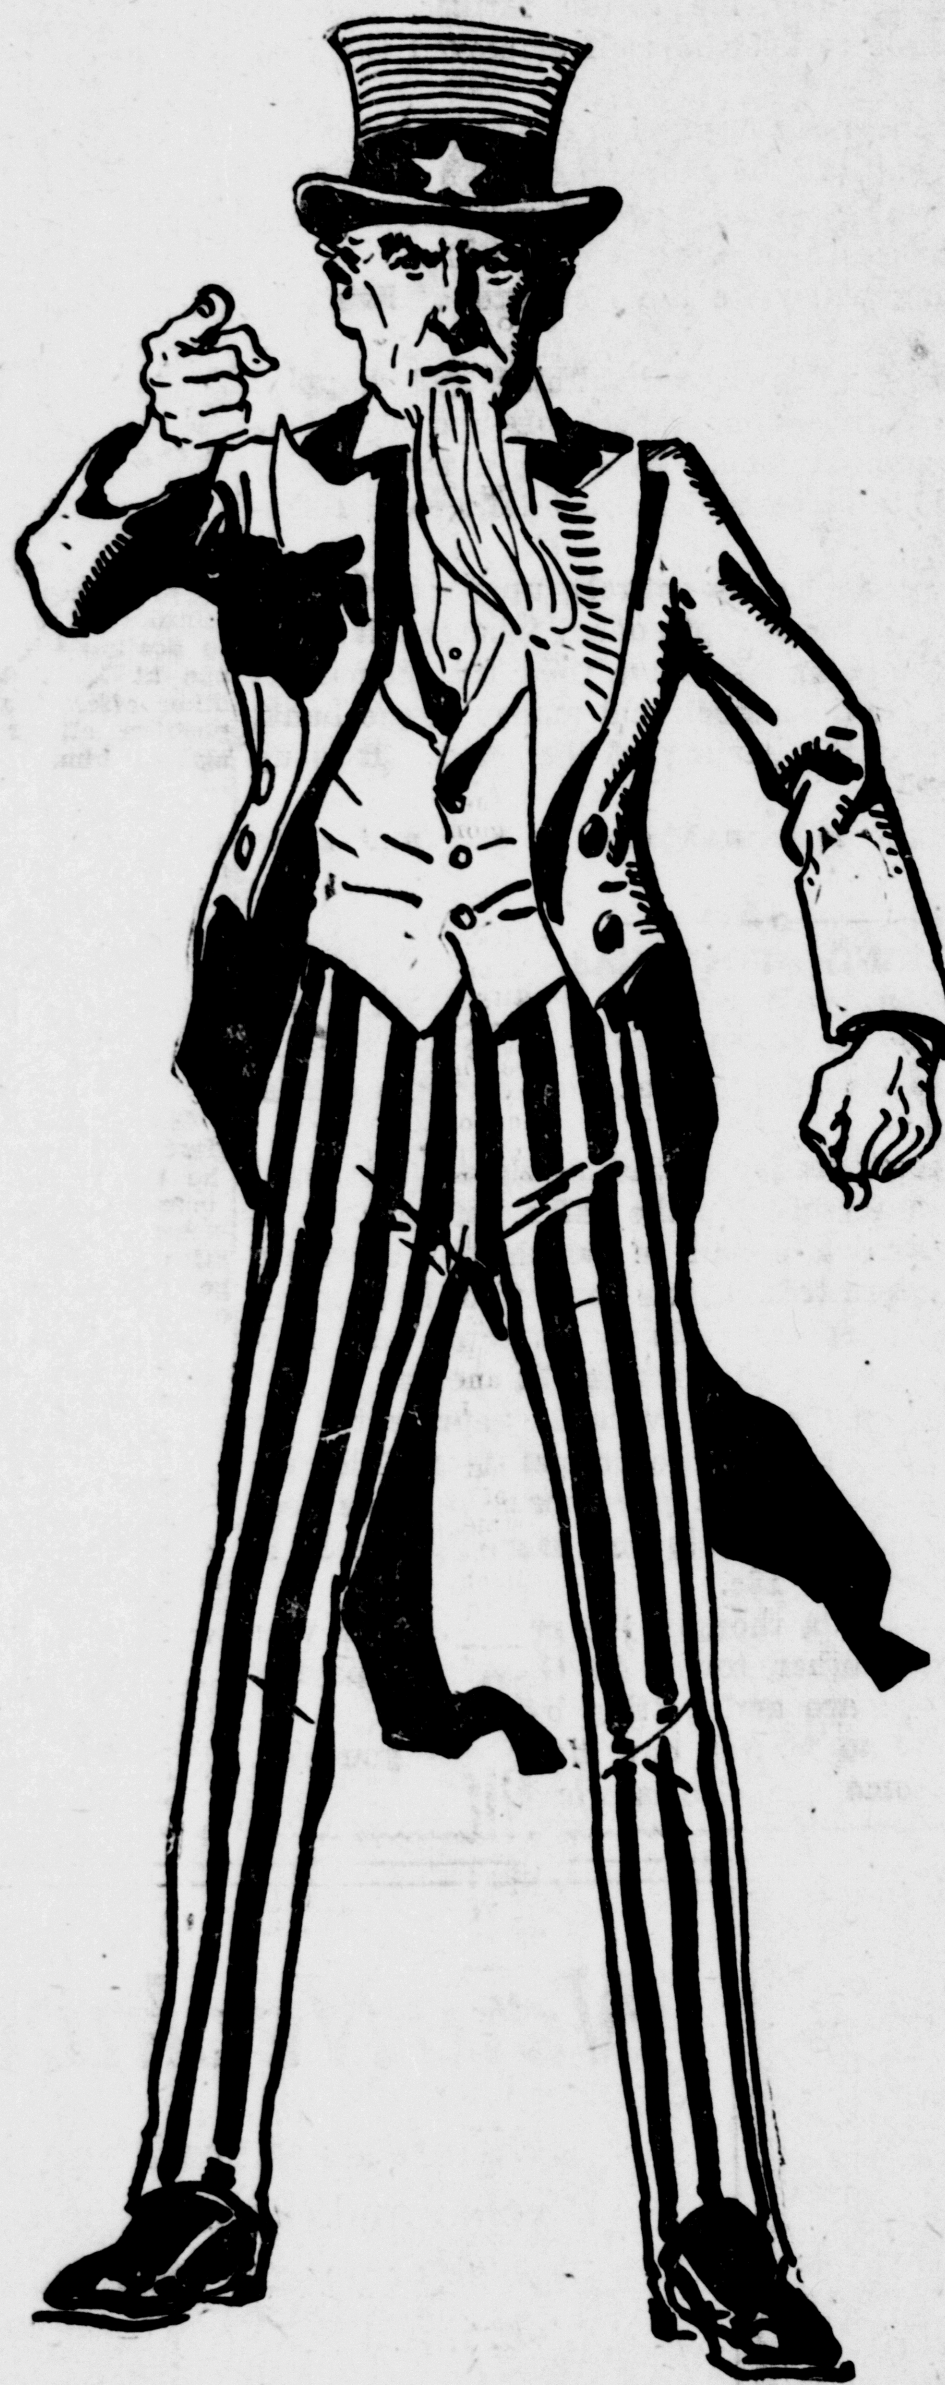

"Business as usual" was one of the great "war-winning" slogans. It was vital that the wheels of business kept revolving so that a prosperous country could furnish funds and supplies to maintain our boys overseas in comfort and in determined spirit.

"Business as usual" is just as vital today, that our great army of workers in the mines, in the shops, in the factories, in the foundries in the mills and on the farms may have profitable employment at livable wages.

When you stop buying you create stagnacy that develops over-production. Over-production halts industry, causes unemployment and hard times. Neither autocrat nor artisan, magnate or mechanic, employer or wage-earner, can afford to stop buying.

A portion of every dollar spent by the worker, by you and I, eventually gets back to us in payment of the products which we produce. It keeps the wheels going at the glass plant, the cement plant and the various other industries which help support Ada and Pontotoc county. If everybody keeps their dollars moving no one will find it necessary to skimp and save, for when the dollars are moving we all have the same chance to get our proportionate share, and, after all that is what has always made business good, and the only thing that will ever make it good.

REGULATE YOUR INCOME

Thrift is not self-denial of the enjoyments of life.

Thrift is the regulation of our income in such a manner that you can participate in the good things of life now and in the future by sensible distribution of spending and saving.

During the days of high wages and high prices, when everyone spent freely and indulged in pleasures and conveniences that they never could afford before, the savings deposited in the banks of the country increased tremendously — particularly among wage earners. There was a chance for Thrift and Good Living.

But if buying stops, production stops, work becomes scarce, wages come down, thousands are unemployed and the chance for saving, thrift, or the purchase of enjoyments and extra comforts become rare.

When you stop buying, you put a binder on the bankroll—on mine, on the man who buys from me, on the things you are paid to make, and the boss who pays you to make them.

Who's the Goat?—You are eventually.

SEND FOR JIM HARRIS.

Every articulate citizen of Oklahoma has assigned a reason why the eighth legislature went on a strike and not a single one of those reasons is the correct one. In spite of partisan diagnoses no sensible reason has yet been advanced why the representatives of the people stampeded like Pecos cattle when the clock struck the midnight hour on April 2. The only sensible explanation of the legislative Hegira is that Jim Harris was not there.

As long as Jim remained in Oklahoma City and lead his Solonettes they performed according to the card and without mishap. But as soon as Jim crossed the state boundary to assume charge of national functions his legislature went to the bad. It simply could not run without a leader any more than a three foot steam engine with a five-foot whistle can run without a governor. It required some directive ability to function and Big Jim furnished that directive ability. For six weeks Jim remained on the job and all was well in Israel. Then Jim went down Washington way and straightway "hell broke loose in Georgia."

It has been said by the Philistine that Big Jim claimed his vacation rights about the time he received a subpoena to testify in a certain criminal trial at Ardmore. But that was all alley gossip. Jim went to Washington because a Republican administration was scheduled to set up housekeeping for the next quadrennium and many loaves and fishes were billed for distribution. There are forty-eight Republican state organizations including Jim Harris and all and sundry of these had a hankering after Pennsylvania Avenue. To stay in Oklahoma City and run the legislature was indispensable but to perambulate in the plumb garden back of the White House was profitable. So to the Potomac went Big Jim, leaving such things as operating an Oklahoma law factory to the little blind god of chance.

Without the good natured smile and tactful orders of the man from Wagoner the legislature became very much like a certain drama without Hamlet. It became more like a lion without a head—nothing left but a roar and a reaction. Like the Arkansas doctor it was not so much on ordinary diseases, but hell on fits. It could not amend an old law or enact a new one, but it broke all records for adjournment. It manifested every hour of its long and serpentine being its total inability to function without the present help of Jim Harris.

So this is the reason it finally blew up with a loud noise and sickening odor. It is unfortunate that the legislature could not run on its own momentum. It is more unfortunate that Harding had to be inaugurated while the legislature was in session. It is most unfortunate that Jim Harris is not twins, for with one of him in Oklahoma and the other in Washington our charitable institutions would not today be running on short rations. That's it: Jim Harris ought to have been twins.

COTTON AND BANKRUPTCY.

The prospective carry-over of cotton at July 31, 1921 is now not far from 11,000,000 bales. That amount is fully 2,000,000 bales larger than was threatened before the Christmas holidays, when the acreage committee predicted that the carry over would not be less than 9,000,000 bales. Thus it is that our fears have not only been confirmed but the situation is even worse than we seemed warranted in predicting a few months ago.

A desperate effort has been made during the last three weeks to advance the price of cotton. It is a trick of those who want cheap cotton, to advance the price about planting time. The trick has been used so often that it can now deceive no one. Efforts to advance the price of cotton while determined have failed, and this fact of itself should be a sufficient warning to farmers not to be misled. When those who want cheap cotton and who ordinarily control the price of cotton cannot advance the price for a purpose, it is not likely that the farmer will be able to advance it.

Cotton acreage must be reduced, and the reduction must be adequate. Anything less than 50 percent compared with last year will not be adequate.

There is now enough cotton in the world unspun to last nearly two years.

The world will carry over this year more American cotton than was spun during the past twelve months.

The carry-over, including linters, may approximate 11,000,000 bales, or from five to six times a normal carry-over of American cotton.

The United States cannot consume more than about 6,000,000 bales of cotton annually.

Europe, which ordinarily takes the surplus of the American crop, or about 50 per cent of the crop, is very unpromising as a market, because of depreciated currency and lack of security to offer as a basis of credit.

The buying power of the world is far below normal, but the supply of cotton is now vastly in excess of every normal requirement.

It will cost more to produce a new crop than it can be sold for at present prices and there is no present prospect that prices will advance.

Cotton can now be bought cheaper than it can be produced. It is better, therefore, to buy cotton or to hold what you now own than to grow more. Every bale purchased tends to advance prices; every acre planted tends to make prices go down.

Unless cotton can be produced profitably it would be worse than folly to attempt to produce it at all.

It is impossible to recover losses by incurring more losses—that is the road to bankruptcy.

Unless cotton can be sold it will not pay debts or taxes, neither can we eat it.

Cotton is no longer a cash commodity.

For the first time in your life, it is difficult if not impossible to sell cotton.

The cotton farmer, at the best, receives returns for his labor but once a year. He turns his capital only once a year, whereas, under a diversified system of farming, returns are received many times a year.

Any one crop system is uneconomic, because under it no plan of farm management can be devised which will give a maximum yearly use of tools, equipment and labor. The one crop farmer, particularly the cotton farmer, finds it difficult if not impossible to keep himself employed the year round.

If you grow cotton without growing food for man and feed for beast, we shall all be worse off than bankrupt, maybe starving this winter when the wind whistles through our meatless smoke houses and cornless corn cribs.

Diversified farming will raise the standard of living in the South.

Diversified farming will make healthier and happier women and children, more and better schools and churches, manlier and more contented men. In short, a more ambitious, better educated, thinking and more intelligent citizenship.

Farmers who have depended entirely upon cotton and cotton alone, are virtually bankrupt today, whereas farmers who have diversified more or less, have food for themselves and families and feed for their stock and money in the bank. The South stands at the parting of the ways. It is up to you.

Every farmer ought to own a cow, a sow and some chickens.—Exchange.

TALKING ABOUT GAS.

Have you forgotten the near war that all but broke out in Ada in the latter part of 1919 when the gas rate in this double-A city was elevated by the corporation commission? Neither have we.

But during the recent session of the legislature we heard some dozen brick manufacturers make talks before a legislative committee concerning a bill in which the aforesaid manufacturers were interested. Each man told how much gas for manufacturing purposes costs in his town, and mirabile dictu, the Ada rate is the cheapest in Oklahoma.

Among the cities, towns, and villages represented at that legislature hearing the gas rate ranges from 10c per thousand cubic feet in Ada to 58c per thousand cubic feet in Cleveland, where the rate is 18c.

Back in 1919 we of Ada thought the new gas rate was ruinous. But there are other towns in Oklahoma paying six times as much as we are and getting by.

The moral is, that no matter how badly off you are, the chances are that some one else is worse off.

Oklahoman: Do the legislators who would not stay in session on $2 a day think that the state teachers should serve without pay?

TULSA TRIBUNE: When that Anti-home Wreckers' Association gets to properly functioning won't there be an awful procession of vamps to nunneries?

Oklahoman: The English public is clapping its hands, Lloyd George is rubbing his hands and the English miners are wringing their hands.

Bartlesville Enterprise: The men will interpose no objection to the plan to omit the word "obey" from the marriage service. Those who have tried to use it have found that it doesn't work.

Bartlesville Examiner: Someway we never had a high regard for the salesman who spent most of the time allotted to him trying to prove the prospective purchaser was one of the animals Balam made famous.

Hominy News: Autos are disposed to become reckless and selfish when not reminded that a town is not necessarily on the map for their special convenience. Auto regulations are the first step in good order and comparative safety on the streets in a busy town.

Fort Smith Times-Record: No one expected the president to endorse the League, but with Europe our debtor to the extent of many billions, America must retain her position in world affairs whether it be in a League or an association of nations, and Harding has left the door open so that he can slide in any time it is advisable.

Shawnee News: Oklahoma's governor has never been noted for his ability to keep his temper nor has he ever been rated as possessing a scintilla of judgment when it comes to dealing with the public. His tirade at McAlester cannot have any other effect than lining up the opposition all the more definitely against him.

Arkansas City Traveler: This is a pretty good epigram for everyone to observe at this time: "Pull the oar and you won't have time to rock the boat." That means to keep busy with your work. It means if your business is falling behind or at a standstill work a little harder. Don't stand around and whine.

Oklahoma Leader: President Harding recommends the repeal of the excess profits tax. Next will come the repeal of the tax on large incomes. Then the enactment of a sales tax law. Thus the burden of government and the interest we owe on the war debt will be shifted from the shoulders of those most able to pay, to the shoulders of those least able to pay. Our education is progressing rapidly.

TO TEACH JOURNALISM AT O. U. THIS YEAR

NORMAN, April 19.—(Special)

Journalism will be offered to Oklahoma high school teachers who are supervising the publication of high school papers and annuals, for the first time during the 1921 University of Oklahoma summer session, beginning June 4, and closing August 2, according to the 1921 University of Oklahoma summer session bulletin, which will be ready for distribution soon.

Features of the 1921 Sooner summer term will be courses in Americanization, given by Dr. W. W. Phelan, dean of the school of education and director of the summer school, a course for teachers in junior high school, courses in geology, government, education, training in library science for the benefit of teachers who must supervise the libraries in their high schools, and special lectures to be given by celebrated educators of the United States.

More than 200 courses will be offered. Americanization work will enter around social psychology, economics, methods of teaching, modern city government, and American government and politics. A new feature of the 1921 summer session will be a State Board of Vocational training course in the administration and organization of vocational education. This work will be given by Miss Nellie B. Turner.

Although no definite estimates can be given on registration for the 1921 University of Oklahoma summer session, it is expected that attendance will run higher this summer than ever before. Prices of board and rooms will not be as high as they were last summer, and living accommodations will be plentiful. The $250,000 McAlester Consistory boys' Masonic dormitory will be thrown open to women students. H. L. Mulrow, chairman of the Consistory dormitory committee, states.

Better city government in Oklahoma will be stimulated by the University of Oklahoma summer session by a 6-day course for secretaries of Chamber of Commerce, given under the auspices of the American City bureau. Secretaries in several cities in Oklahoma have attended such courses at the University of Wisconsin, where the work has been given for years, and thoroughly indorse its being added to the University of Oklahoma summer session schedule.

Special conveniences at the University of Oklahoma will be arranged for the benefit of visiting chamber of commerce secretaries, according to present plans. The work will be of a practical nature and conferences will be held between experts and chamber secretaries during the 6-day session.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS WILL DEBATE FOR HONORS TONIGHT

The debating teams of the Lindsay high school and the Wapanucka high school will debate at the normal auditorium this evening for the honors between the two schools. Both teams are good ones and have defeated all opponents this year. They are the champions in their districts and the winning team will be given championship of the two communities.

Both teams are composed of boys and two to a team. The debate will begin at 8 and all are invited to come out as no admission will be charged. This is the first out of town debate to be held here for some time and those who are interested should be on time to get the full benefit of it. The subject will be "The Kansas Labor Laws."

Today.

Sure, this world is full of trouble—I ain't said it ain't.
Lord! I've had enough, an' double.
Reasons for complaint.
Rain an' storm have come to fret me
Skies were often gray;
Thorns an' brambles have beset me
On the road—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

What's the use of always weepin'
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin'
Thinkin' of the past?
Each must mas his tribulation,
Water with his wine.
Life it ain't no celebration.
Trouble? I me mad mine—
But today is fine.

It's today that I am livin'
Not a moment ago,
Havin' losin' takin', givin'
As times will it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across the way;
It may rain again tomorrow,
It may rain—but, say,
Ain't it fine today?

Delphian Club Meeting.

from his usual society background for his plot in "Something to Think folds a virile story of plain folks in

NATION'S CHIEF HONORS PATRIOT

"to perpetuate the memory of great men" are unique in the history of Pan-American relations. The New York celebration, emphasized by the presence of President Harding, Secretary Hughes, officers of the United States army and navy and Latin-American diplomats including Dr. E. Gil-Borges, Venezuelan foreign minister and a distinguished delegation, will be especially notable. There will be a parade to Central park, where following the unveiling, President Harding is expected to outline the attitude of the administration toward Latin-American republics.

A luncheon at which toasts will be offered to the presidents of all American republics will precede the parade. In the evening a dinner will be given at the Waldorf Astoria by the city of New York in honor of Dr. Gil-Borges and on Wednesday, the 20th, the Pan-American society of the United States has planned a luncheon in honor of the Venezuelan delegation and arbitration of international concerns.

History records the fact that Simon Bolivar intended to create "the United States of South America." He was a statesman as well as a soldier and a century ago advocated the abolition of slavery and arbitration of international controversies. In 1805 when the ideals of liberty born of the American Revolution were spreading abroad Bolivar, who was then 22 years old, swore in the Monte Cacao of Rome to his professor and beloved tutor, Don Simon Rodriguez, "to give liberty to the new world." He consecrated his life and fortune to that great task. Born in Caracas on July 24, 1783, his parents wealthy and of noble blood, he was sent in 1799 to Spain to continue his studies. An uncle, Esteban Palacio, introduced him to the Spanish court in Madrid. Young Simon thereafter became an associate of the Prince of Asturias, later Ferdinand VII. One day while at play Bolivar and the future king came to blows and Ferdinand was worsted. "Who could imagine that 20 years later I was to knock him down again and deprive him of his richest dominion?" asked Bolivar.

After visiting France in 1801, he married Marie Teresa Toro. She was only 16 and died at the end of a year. The next seven years Bolivar passed in Europe and the United States. The form of American government deeply impressed him and when he returned to Venezuela in 1809 he described it as "superior to any government," starting soon thereafter to fight for the liberty of his native land.

Bolivar participated in 1810 in the first rebellion of Caracas, in which he commanded a small troop. He fought the Spaniards for two years in 1813 with 500 men captured the Venezuelan capital. Spain sent more troops and Bolivar was driven out whereupon he started a "war to the death" and rallying many thousands adherents within a few years freed the whole territory of the Spaniards.

The "liberator" then began his campaign to free other South American provinces and his success resulted on June 29, 1821, in his election as president of the Great Colombia, a union of Colombia and Venezuela. In 1822 he began his warfare against the Spaniards in Ecuador, his lieutenant, General Sucrea winning the battle of Pichincha, which freed that country. The Peruvian Congress in 1824 elected him dictator and in the battle of Ayacucho, his troops consecrated forever the "Liberty of South America." An armistice signed thereafter acknowledged the independence of the whole continent from Spain.

Bolivar planned in 1824 to create a confederation of states formed by Mexico, Colombia, Ecuador, Venezuela, Peru, Chile and Argentina. He called a congress which met at Panama, said to have been the first congress of nations ever assembled in the world "to interpret treaties, put an end to differences give council in conflict and unity in national dangers." Bolivar then went to the region called Alto Peru and created a new republic named Bolivia in his honor, to which he gave a constitution. Returning to Venezuela in 1826, he found the country in civil war. Accused of aspiring to the title of king he resigned the presidency of Colombia and in 1827 retired to private life. Called again to assume the cares of office he accepted the presidency and served until his death at San Pedro near Santa Marca on December 17, 1830. Bolivar's body was removed to Caracas in 1842.

During his life Simon Bolivar received many honors from abroad. In 1825, the family of George Washington, for whom Bolivar had great admiration, commissioned General Lafayette to present him with a portrait of the great American, together with some of his medals, a lock of his hair and a number of letters from Washington to his wife.

STUDENTS OF JOURNALISM TO EDIT NEWS

NORMAN, April 19.—All editorial departments of the Oklahoma News, Oklahoma City, will be edited by the school of journalism, University of Oklahoma, April 26, H. H. Herbert, director of the school of journalism, announced recently.

It has been the custom of the school of journalism since 1916 to take over all editorial departments of the "News" for one day sometime during the year, generally about the middle of the second semester. It is being planned this year to conduct every department of the paper, including features and cartoons, Prof. Herbert said.

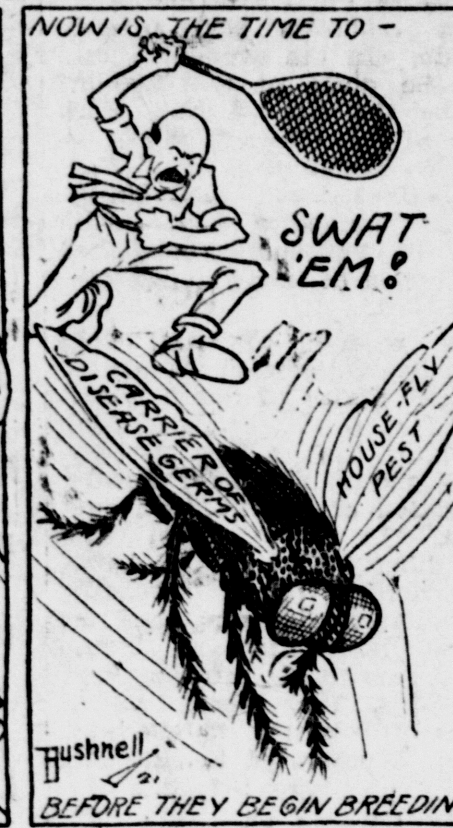

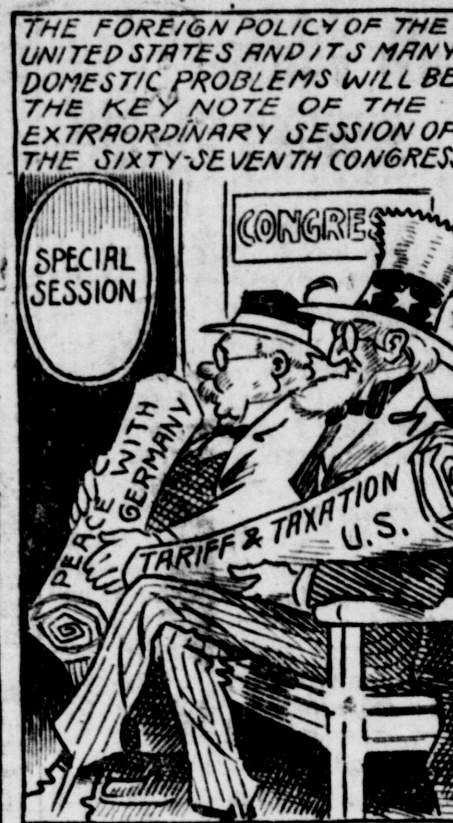

The class in news writing will act as reporters and will cover all regular runs. The class in editorial writing will edit all stories and write the editorials, including the "referee" column, "Cynthia Grey" "Such is Life," and other feature columns will be written by students who have shown special interest in such types of writing. The cartoons will be selected from a number of drawings submitted by students who have ability in such work.

BRAVES STORM TO SAVE HIS FRIEND

COLORADO SPRINGS, April 18.—Theodore Knight, Saturday night walked 14 miles thru a blizzard, battling huge snow drifts and saved the life of Frank Williams an aged cripple. Friday night the youth was forced to leave Williams in his stalled automobile and walked to Colorado Springs for help. After three rescue parties had set out and failed to reach Williams, Knight returned on foot. A fourth rescue party headed by Sheriff Wier, broke through the snow drifts early today and found Knight and Williams safe in a farm house not far from the automobile. Williams suffered severely from his 26 hours in the automobile. Four doughnuts was all he had to eat during that time. Both men were removed to Colorado Springs.

BLAINE COUNTY GIRL WRITES A PRIZE ESSAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 18.—If you ask who is the happiest girl in Oklahoma today, without hesitation the answer comes, "Alma Warkentine, Eighth grade student in the Canadian Valley school, Geary, Blaine County."

For the same reason, this school considers itself the most fortunate in the state. By the time Alma reads this item in the newspapers (the first she will know about it,) a box containing 25 books, sufficient to start a splendid school library, will have been received at the school. Alma's essay on the "Use of the Traveling Library" won the prize.

In order to acquaint the rural and grade schools of the state with the Traveling Library commission, located in the State Capitol building, a prize of 25 volumes was offered for the best essay written by any student in the rural or grade schools of the state.

All during February the manuscripts poured into the library commission's office, but it was not until recently that all three judges had been able to make a decision. Mrs. J. R. Dale, secretary of the commission, Mrs. Carl Williams of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, and Mrs. Nellie Bunyan Jennings of Harlow's Weekly, were the trio who read the papers and had such a hard time deciding.

Of these Garvin reported more than 2,000; Caddo, 1,800; McClain, 1,700 and Jackson and Pottawatomie 1,500 each. NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

Marion Fairfax, noted playwright and author of scenarios for Marshall Neilan's "Dinty," "Go and Get It," "The River's End" and "Bob Hampton of Palmyra," has formed her own producing company to be known as Marion Fairfax Productions. She looks more like a regular movie star herself than many we have seen.

Miss Fairfax, whose successful stage plays prior to her affiliation with motion pictures gained her wide prominence as a playwright, has given the screen many of its most popular photoplays via Marshall Neilan and Famous Players-Lasky. For the stage she created such metropolitan successes as "The Builders" first produced at the Astor theater in New York; "The Chaperon" with Maxine Elliott; "Mrs. Crew's Career" in collaboration with Winston Churchill and others.

The initial independent production by Miss Fairfax for the screen will be entitled "The Lying Truth" her own original story. In the leading roles will appear such popular players as Marjorie Daw, Pat O'Malley, Tully Marshall, Noah Beery, Claire McDowell, Charles Males, George Dromgold and Robert Brower. Hugh McClung will co-direct with Miss Fairfax.

Bryant Washburn to Tour. Bryant Washburn is soon to tour the principal cities and appear personally at theaters showing his new production, "The Road to London."

Frank Keenan and Rip Van Winkle. Frank Keenan shows no sign of returning to the screen. He is preparing a stage revival of "Rip Van Winkle" in California.

Bessie Love With Bosworth. Bessie Love is journeying forth on the first season-long trip of her five-year film career. She has been induced to become a member of Hobart Bosworth's company for one picture and will join them at the Santa Cruz Islands, to play the leading ingenue part opposite Bosworth in his forthcoming release, "The Sea Lion."

Kipling Play Cost.

The cast of principal players for Robert Brunton's production of Rudyard Kipling's "Without Benefit of Clergy" has been completed. Virginia Brown Faire, the popular seventeen-year-old leading lady, has the principal feminine role. Thomas Hilding will interpret the chief male character. Other players of importance were Evelyn Selbie, Nisel de Brulier, Boris Karloff and Otto Lederer.

Rev. Morris Returns Home After a Very Successful Meeting

Rev. Clyde Calhoun Morris returned to his home here yesterday afternoon from Pryor, where he just closed a most successful two weeks' protracted meeting. Mrs. Morris, who joined her husband at Pryor last Sunday, returned with him.

Rev. Morris reports that during the two week's meeting 175 persons were converted and 157 were added to the church, 127 of whom were baptized. In speaking of the meeting, residents of Pryor say that it was the greatest ever held in the city.

Rev. Morris is so hoarse from the strenuous work in the meeting that he can scarcely speak above a whisper, but he is greatly pleased with the results of the meeting.

Pryor is a beautiful little city of 2,500 persons, the county seat of Mayes county.

UNEMPLOYED MEN ARE NOW FINDING JOBS EVERY DAY

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 18.—The total number of unemployed in Oklahoma on April 9 was 5,000, or a reduction of about 43 percent over the number idle in the state in January, according to a survey made in 14 of the larger cities employing all classes of labor, by Claude E. Connally, state labor commissioner. Civic and labor organizations co-operated in compiling the figures.

Carpenters, brick layers, electricians, plumbers, plasterers and other skilled tradesmen as well as all classes of unskilled laborers are affected, according to the survey. The number of unemployed in January was given as approximately 10,500, compared with 5,000 on April 9.

Renewed building of residences and commercial houses is attributed by the report to be instrumental in relieving the unemployment situation.

"While there are comparatively few large buildings reported under construction, the building of residences and a large amount of repair work that is going on has been sufficient to relieve the unemployment situation affecting skilled mechanics in many localities," the survey points out.

"Large building and construction projects for the near future are announced from Ardmore, Okmulgee and Ponca City. Enid, it is expected, plans erection of 200 residences and 10 business houses this year. With renewed building activity in all sections predicted, it seems logical to assume that the unemployment situation in the state will be better off later in the season."

Detailing by comparison the number of unemployed, the report states that unemployment decreased in 10 of the cities reporting; the number remaining the same in one locality and increased in 3 others.

"Some of the reports say that all or nearly all of those who are now out of employment will find work as soon as weather conditions permit active building operations to resume," the report says. "A number of the reports say that weather conditions and the stringency of the money market, withholding of loans by banks and the general belief that prices of materials and labor will drop, are contributing factors to the general situation."

MINE OWNERS CONVENTION TO BE HELD THIS MONTH

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, April 18.—A convention of mine owners interested in the mining of all kinds of minerals in Oklahoma will be held in this city April 28 and 29 for the purpose of increasing the production of minerals in this state.

Technical papers will be read on coal and oil, and a comparison made between the two by mining experts.

Edwin Ludlow, national president of the American Institution of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering, will attend the meetings, accompanied by Bradley Stoughton, secretary. Mr. Ludlow was selected as the head of the organization after the resignation of Herbert Hoover a short time ago.

This organization has 10,000 members in the United States and several hundred in Oklahoma and surrounding states.

In addition to the regular program the visiting delegates will be taken on a tour of inspection of newly opened strip coal mines in the outskirts of the city of Tulsa.

Mr. Gethman of Shawnee was in the city last night and today. He returned to his home there after serving as a judge in the debate here.

Paul Steed of Wichita Falls, Texas, was in the city over the week-end visiting relatives and looking after oil business. He may make Ada his headquarters as he is now connected with an oil concern at that place.

THE beauty of this splendidly made garment is that it is so simple. Its one master button at the chest takes the place of a row of nine or more buttons and buttonholes. That means, for one thing, just so much less repairing to be done, but more than anything else it means that the is the perfect-fitting union suit. The one button does away with all that gapping and wrinkling that comes when there is a row of buttons and a row of buttonholes to be pulled together.

Some FACTS About

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921 and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Delivered to Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883	57,208
FEBRUARY	35,305	63,603
MARCH	61,886	87,221
Total	127,074	208,032
	Total Production	Total Retail Sales

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, however, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

AN ANONYMOUS LETTER.

The News has just received an anonymous letter. Usually such communications reach only the waste basket, for the person who conceals his identity behind a non-de-plume, or insists on yelling his information over a rock wall when the yard gate is wide open, is usually not entitled to much consideration. The receiver of a letter should know several things about the sender in order to give the communication the proper consideration. If the letter we have just received effected only the News we would decide what to do with it and take the consequences, but it effects every man, woman and child in the city and we hesitate to take the responsibility of acting for everyone. We are taking the same course we would pursue should we receive a letter, unsigned, or signed "a traveling man." as this one is, telling that the city is to be blown up. The people should know and decide for themselves. Here it is:

Have just finished reading your editorial in the News under the caption, "Let There be Light," and must say that it is most timely, but right here I would like to add you can come on down closer home, for right on your principal streets where there happens to be light enough to see your way, the streets are too filthy to drive a respectable car over, much less a pedestrian having to cross them. Should he choose not to walk the street he takes serious chances of stumbling on the improvised sidewalks which you have in different section of the city and is liable to break a limb.

It seems a shame that the citizens of Ada, one of the most prosperous cities in the state, have no more civic pride than they do.

I have been making Ada for a number of years and would make my home here were it not for the deplorable conditions which now exist.

If we had the resources in our town that you have here, we would have a town three times as large as yours and of course folks can do the same thing by going after things in the proper manner.

I will return to Ada late in the summer and I trust I will find at least a cleaner and better lighted city.

Signed, A Traveling Man.

The streets and alleys need cleaning. Perhaps we have become so accustomed to seeing them littered with refuse and accumulations of dirt that we do not realize how dirty they are. If they were once thoroughly cleaned we would see the difference. Strangers from other cities, where clean streets and alleys are normal, notice the difference and comment upon it when they get home, and in some instances before they get home as did the man (or woman) who wrote the anonymous letter printed above. Such letters are not good advertising for any town. If cleanliness of person is next to godliness, surely cleanliness of a city is next to prosperity. It is easy for a visitor to believe that if the city is clean it is also prosperous. He will go home and say so, and that is the best kind of advertising.

No town has suffered in the eyes of strangers or got a bad reputation from having clean streets, bordered with shade trees, well trimmed and cared for, with yards and houses bearing the evidence of being well kept and newly painted. Such a city is like the refreshing ocean breeze to the traveler who has gone from one dirty city to another until he has almost lost his anticipation of finding cleanliness and beauty in a municipality. The impression that streets make upon such a visitor will make him talk about it wherever he travels.

The cleanup campaign recently launched by the home welfare committee of the "Better Cities" organization has done, and is still doing, wonderful things in the way of ridding Ada of filthy alleys and dirty streets. We predict that when "Mr. Traveling Man" returns to Ada "late in the summer," he will phone his wife to "stamp out the fire and call the dogs," and get ready to move to the cleanest city in the state. Here's hoping.

WESTERN MATERIAL AND WESTERN PAYROLLS

Small and medium sized bridges on public highways are more and more being constructed of wood in western states.

They are cheaper and when properly built are as durable as steel and make a market for our own timber products.

These bridges are roofed over and painted and outlast steel structures, are comfortable and stand any kind of storm.

The payroll of the logging camps and the sawmills are spent in the home markets and employ home labor and deserve preference.

LAWYERS IN THE STILLMAN CASE

John F. Brennan (above) and De Lancy Nicoll.

Enid Events: Spitoon manufacturers reported to be cheered by the fact that American women consumed 20 million cigarettes last year.

Tishomingo Capital-Democrat: The Standard Oil company is running a long series of subsidizing ads in certain newspapers and magazines. This saintly but soulless trust is anxious to have people accept it as a benefactor to the race instead of a daylight robber.

Shawnee News:—It will be interesting to see just what use the state will make of the six brick buildings constituting the plant of the girls industrial school at Tecumseh, built at a cost of $300,000 but unused because of the idiosyncrasy of the present legislature. The buildings are admirably adapted by reason of location and construction for hospital purposes and as there is great need in this state for more accommodations of this sort they should be turned over to the department of health to be used for this purpose, presupposing, of course, that hospital attendants will not refuse to forego the social life of Oklahoma City and appeal to the state federation of Women's clubs to save them from a life of isolation.

The Way We Sell It

Wetumka Gazette: The past year has brought disappointments to all of us. We had been looking forward to the marketing of the best cotton crop in the history of the state at a price that would at least be in keeping with the cost of producing it, but before our people had hardly started to gathering the crop the bottom fell out and at least four-fifths of the crop was sold for less than ten cents. At the time the crop was made labor was at its zenith, making it the most expensive crop ever produced. It has been said that every pound raised in this state represented an expenditure of 30 cents. Whether these figures are true or not we are unable to say but we do know that the prices received were far below cost and we also know that it has financially ruined our people.

There is but one way out of the situation as we see it, and that is to reduce the cotton crop. In our opinion the crop should be cut half in two this year and the land be planted to crops that will make feed. The Lord only knows what would have become of us had there not been plenty of feed raised last year.

With the amount of surplus cotton now on hand, there does not appear to us, that we can hope for anything but a low price if another big crop is produced. The only way to get a good price is to cut the acreage.

Charles to Switzerland.

VIENNA, April 2.—Former Emperor Charles will leave Spain-monger for Switzerland, Sunday or Monday. The delay in starting for Switzerland has been occasioned by neglect of the Italian government in issuing permission for him to pass through that country.

Will Decide About Pickle Factory By Tuesday, April 5th

J. H. Atkinson of Brighton, Ia., has returned to Ada and will decide definitely by next Tuesday whether he will establish a pickle salting station and canning factory here.

Mr. Atkinson said to the News yesterday that he is very favorably impressed with the agricultural outlook in Pontotoc county, the climate, the city of Ada and the spirit of co-operation and progress which he has encountered during his three visits to the county, but added that there are a few details which must be investigated before he can decide for certain whether he will build the factory here.

If he decides to build the factory here it will require the product of about 150 acres of pickles the first year to make a paying business of the industry. He has been led to believe that such an acreage can be obtained without the least trouble and he will arrange the other details of the business with that thought in view.

Mr. Atkinson said he would not undertake to handle the tomato crop this year, as it is now getting late in the planting season. If he meets with the right kind of support with the pickle factory this year, he expects to add the equipment to take care of a large acreage of tomatoes next year.

Recital at Normal Last Evening Was A Great Success

The concert given at the Normal auditorium last evening by the Glee Club of the Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha must be numbered among the successful musical events of the season.

The audience only filled one half of the auditorium, but it was very responsive and several of the members of the Glee Club were called on to respond with other selections than those on the regular program. The Glee Club is composed of twenty young ladies, each a student at the Chickasha school. The selections rendered, both vocal and instrumental, spoke well for the institution which provided the instruction, as well as the musical talent of the members of the club.

The program was varied, consisting of vocal solos, duets, quartets, choruses, readings and piano and violin solos. While the audience was a very responsive one and showed appreciation of each selection by spirited encores, perhaps the greatest demonstration was made over the violin solos rendered by Miss Jessie Morton of Wagoner, who captivated every one with her splendid playing.

Following the recital, the members of the musical organizations of the Normal held a brief reception in the reception hall of the Normal for the members of the visiting club. Punch was served and a very delightful time was had by every one.

Thirty years ago Los Angeles had a population of only 50,395, now it supplies nearly that number of movie actors.

Roy Stegall Returns To Hot Springs After Brief Visit

Roy Stegall returned to his work at Hot Springs, Ark., early this morning, after a brief visit with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. D. F. Stegall.

Roy is one of Uncle Sam's revenue officers. He has been assigned to duty at Hot Springs, for several months and has proven himself to be an officer of the highest type.

Much of his time is spent in breaking into the arrangements of men and women who undertake to smuggle narcotics and intoxicating liquors into the great American health resort. Thousands of arrests are made each year and the illicit practice has grown rapidly during the last six months.

TWO BUILDINGS STARTED TODAY ON SUBDIVISION SOUTH OF CITY

The contract was signed and building has begun on one 6-room modern brick house, and one 5-room and basement modern house and two tracts sold today for future homes in the subdivision of land south of the city.

There is only 14 tracts of land in this subdivision, 2 acres more or less to four acres the tract, priced from $450 to $800 per tract, and on terms already advertised.

There is not as many tracts as there are buyers if half buy that want to, if you are interested and really want a part of this land you will have to get busy and make your selection now.

This is going to be one of the most desirable places in or out of this growing city to live, every advantage here that is offered you on a 50-foot lot, and you can live at home, have what you want and save money as you go.

Did you ever stop to think that 75 per cent of your living is bought in tin cans, glass bottles and fancy paper packages and paper bags?

Don't you know that 25 per cent of the cost of this will produce more food value when you have a cow, hogs, chickens, garden and fruit. Why then will you continue to throw away one-half—get busy and buy a tract of this property and be at home and be independent of rent profiteers, and landlords who can tell you to move when it is not convenient for you to move.

This property will soon double in value and you will regret that you hesitated, see me now, while you can get some choice tract.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch is exceedingly well trained for her position as chairman of the committee on unification of laws and legal status of women, one of the eight standing committees of the National League of Women Voters. Since her marriage in 1890 to Frank H. McCulloch, she has been associated with him in the law firm of McCulloch and McCulloch. The firm is really very much a family affair, for now the oldest son in the family, Capt. Hugh W. McCulloch, is associated with his parents in the firm.

Besides being the mother of four grown children, Mrs. McCulloch is a member of the Chicago and Illinois Bar associations, president of the Illinois Woman's Bar association and master in chancery of the superior court of Cook county. She was the first woman in the United States to act as justice of the peace being first elected in 1907, and by votes of men only. She was admitted to practice before the supreme court of Illinois in 1886, and the supreme court of the United States in 1897.

For many years Mrs. McCulloch has worked for suffrage in her state, preparing bills and securing the passage of several, among them being those for joint guardianship, raising the age of consent, and presidential, municipal and town suffrage. She is very proud of the fact that her honeymoon some thirty years ago was spent in a suffrage campaign through the Dakotas.

She has served in the same capacity for the League of Women Voters since its organization.

Women Masons Not Recognized. At the quarterly meeting of the United Grand Lodge of Masons, in London, the "woman" question came up for discussion. It is well known in Masonic circles in England that women as well as men are initiated and become members in several lodges regarded by the grand lodge as clandestine. A petition requesting recognition was received, signed by two women and two men. The grand secretary replied that the prayer of the petition could be recommended to the grand lodge and that the lodge would exercise its disciplinary powers towards any members at or assisting in assemblies which professed to be Masonic and admitted women.

New Major Generals in U. S. Navy

Left to right, above: Maj. Gens. Clarence R. Edwards, William G. Haan, John L. Hines, Henry T. Allen, and William M. Wright. Below: James W. McAndrew, David C. Shanks, Charles J. Bailey (center), George Bell, Jr., and Charles H. Muir.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Promotion of Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards to be the senior major general of the army was announced recently by Secretary of War Weeks, who gave out a list of nominations for major generals and brigadier generals of the army.

General Edwards takes the place on the list of major general that was occupied by Maj. Gen. Omar Bundy in the list sent to the senate in the old administration. Bundy is dropped from the list and automatically reverts to the position of brigadier general.

The promotion of Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr., to be a major general was also announced by Secretary Weeks. General Bell gets the place on the major general list through the retirement of Maj. Gen. Hunter Liggett. Brig. Gens. Charles J. Bailey and Samuel D. Sturgis were also promoted to be major generals in the new list, they taking vacant places on the former list. Otherwise the list of major generals is the same as was sent to the senate in the Wilson administration.

With the exception of the name of General Bundy, the list of major generals recommended by Secretary Weeks is identical with that sent to the senate by Mr. Wilson, the name of General Bell having been added only because of the vacancy caused by General Liggett's retirement.

With the exception of General Shanks, who made a great record as commander of the port of embarkation, Hoboken, all these officers served with distinction in the A. E. F., most of them as corps commanders.

Fire Destroys Three Business Houses at Allen Yesterday

Fire yesterday destroyed three business houses at Allen, together with the contents, entailing a loss of approximately $4,500 and for a time endangering other property in the city.

The fire was discovered burning just at sunup in the Estes building, a one story frame structure, located on the west side of Eastman street. The building was occupied by a restaurant stock and both stock and building were entirely destroyed.

Moving south the flames destroyed a two story frame building, used as a rooming house and cafe, known as the M. O. & G. building. Next, a frame restaurant building, owned by Buddie Dyson was destroyed. Practically everything in the three buildings burned. The losses are partly covered by insurance.

FEWER WOMEN IN RAILROAD JOBS THAN LAST YEAR

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 19.—Women employed by the railroads in 1920 numbered 87,547 or 151 less than in 1919 and nearly ten thousand more than in 1918, says a report issued by the interstate commerce commission today. Most of them work in clerical and semi-clerical positions, but 1,363 were doing shop work last year.

SALVATION ARMY HOME FOR WORKING GIRLS OPENED

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, April 19.—Tulsa's Salvation Army home for working girls, a large two-story frame building located in a refined residential section and recently purchased by the local chapter of the Salvation Army, will in all probability be opened about May 1, according to an announcement today by Commandant O. T. Johnson.

According to present plans the home will accommodate 45 girls. Although the house is constructed on the apartment plan it is not to be remodeled, a few minor changes being all that is found necessary to adapt it to army use. Details as to rental, rules and eligibility have not been completed but it is announced that the Tulsa working girl of desirable habits can obtain quarters at this home at a figure unheard of before in Tulsa.

A plan for furnishing the home was worked out at a recent conference between Commandant Johnson and Lieut. Col. George Wood of Dallas, the furnishings to be paid for by citizens of Tulsa who have not yet paid their pledges to the Army's campaign of last year.
